

5 Texts to Make Her Want You

A Guy's Guide to Texting a Woman by Christina Marie

A simple text can go a long way with women. If you know how to flirt and make us feel special, we will be falling for you. We'll brag to all of our girlfriends about you. We'll glow while talking about how amazing this cool, new guy is. And we'll share the sweet, thoughtful texts you send us with our girlfriends. So what's the secret? What texts will drive us wild and get us turned on? Read on for the top 5 texts to make a girl want you.

1. Good Morning!

Simple, right? But this magic line works so, so well when sent daily. Send a girl "Good Morning!" every morning, and you'll make her smile on the way to work. To mix it up, you can do variations like "Good Morning! Have an amazing day at work." Or try, "Have a great day!"

Girls love morning text messages. We aren't distracted by work yet, and we aren't busy with after-work activities. By sending the text in the morning, we know it's not a booty call or a last-minute ditch effort to meet up with us. Wishing a girl "good morning" comes across as sweet and thoughtful. It lets us know that you are thinking of us. And guess what? It really turns us on. It's a "just because" text that is sent without a motive. We love it.

2. How was your day?!

Women want to know that you care about us. When you ask about our day, it shows that you care what's going on in our personal lives. When a woman responds to the "How was your day?!" text, send her a follow-up text asking her to elaborate. For example, if she says, "My day was great! Just got out of tennis practice." Say, "Awesome! Where do you play at?"

The strategy is to ask the woman about her day, and then ask her for more details. Everyone likes to talk about themselves and feel listened to. A woman's deepest desire is to be cared for and appreciated. When a woman feels neglected or ignored she'll seek another man's attention. Show a girl you care, and she'll fall for you.

3. Last night was amazing! ;)

Women want to know that you enjoyed the fooling around, sex, or make-up session as much as they did. The following morning, let a girl know that you had fun too. It's an unspoken rule that we expect a text the following day to re-affirm that the night where our clothes came off was amazing. Plus, if you let a woman know that you had fun and enjoyed it, she'll be more likely to be down again for episode number two.

4. PS – You looked really hot last night 🔥

Don't be afraid to flirt over text. Women love compliments, and we want to know that we are desired. Complement our smarts, fun-loving attitude, and personality too, but we like to know that you are sexually attracted to us. Toss a woman a physical compliment, and you'll make her blush and smile – big time.

Other versions of this text include

- Your hair looked amazing last night.
- BTW – All the guys at the restaurant were checking you out last night. I felt so lucky to be the one at the table with you! 😊
- That blouse really brought out your eyes last night. You looked amazing.
- PS – Am I allowed to say that your dress looked really hot last night?

5. I kind of like you...

Girls want to know that you desire us. After each date, we wonder if you'll ask us out again. Don't leave a girl hanging. Ask, "When can I see you again?" at the end of each date, and then pepper in re-assuring texts like, "I kind of like you" between dates. We are constantly seeking affirmation that you like us. Don't worry – this text won't make you come across as desperate or clingy. We love it!

Other versions of the text include

- I think you're pretty awesome.
- I think I'm falling for you.
- You are amazing, BTW.
